MESSAGE FROM THE AG. PRESIDENT

Dear friends and partners,

I hope this report finds you in good health.

It is my pleasure to share with you the annual report of our dear organisation, Challenging Heights, for the year 2023. In 2023, the organisation continued its efforts to remove, recover, and reintegrate children affected by modern slavery and its worst forms, particularly those working in hazardous conditions on the Volta Lake.

In 2023, the organisation experienced some administrative changes. A new program director was appointed to oversee and coordinate the implementation of all programs and projects. The Advisory Board was also reconstituted in accordance with the organization's constitution. We also separated the recovery component of our work from the rescue and field operations. In accordance with the Challenging Heights Constitution, I was appointed Ag. President of the Organisation in the fourth quarter of 2023. This followed Mr. James Kofi Annan's resignation from his position as President.

Through the effort of our dedicated staff and the support of our partners, we were able to collaborate with key state agencies to remove one hundred and seventeen (117) children working in hazardous and exploitative conditions on the Volta Lake. As has been the trend, the majority (74%) of these children were boys, with 26% being girls. Fifty (50) victims of abusive child domestic work were identified and removed from exploitative situations and supported.

We provided two hundred and sixty-eight (268) children with rehabilitation support at our recovery center. These children characteristically showed signs of physical injuries resulting from abuse and hazardous working conditions. Our reintegration and reunification program covered one hundred and thirty-one (131) children, including eighty-three (83 boys and forty-eight (48) girls, while two hundred and four (204) children were monitored at home and school. We enrolled ninety-three (93) children into schools and vocational skills/apprenticeship training and provided them with the necessary schooling and training materials.

We continued with our efforts to improve people's knowledge of child trafficking and child labour through sensitization and awareness-raising drives. Five (5) community sensitization and awareness programs were conducted, reaching almost five thousand (5000) people. In addition, twenty-three (23) radio sensitization programs were organised involving survivors, field officers, DSW Staff, women beneficiaries, and CCPC members, also reaching over ten thousand (10,000) listeners in the Central region and beyond. We mobilized five hundred and sixty- three (563) children to participate in the voting for the 2023 World Children Prize. One of our survivors was invited to the global event held in Sweden, to share his experience with other survivors.

Our Sports for Change (S4C) program continued to prove worthwhile as a tool to mobilize people to share information on child labour and trafficking prevention. The overall objective is to enhance attitudinal and behavioural change among people, towards protecting children from child labour, child trafficking, domestic servitude and other forms of modern slavery. Over 2600 people participated in the S4C program, with an average of 400 people attending each game. We also started the Challenging Heights Foundation Club for children aged 6 to 16 years. Over 300 children participated in the first phase of selection, with seventy-five (75) qualifying for the next stage. Through our S4C program, seven (7) footballers have been scouted to play for teams broad, while 3 players have been called to the U-17 junior national team of Ghana.

Our School, the Odobirba Academy, continues to make great strides in the provision of quality and low-cost basic education to children. In the last academic year, the school maintained its policy of charging very low fees compared to other private schools in its category. The No caning policy continues to be in force. Total enrolment of the school increased marginally, from nine hundred and ninety-four (994) in the 2022/2023 academic year to one thousand and twenty-five (1025) in the 2023/204 academic year.

With the support of our partner, Many Hopes, we have been able to introduce long-term support for survivors of trafficking who seek to pursue education to the highest level, while providing them with mentorship in complementary life skills including public speaking, research, ICT, etc. In 2023, we supported one hundred and fifty-four (154) beneficiaries from basic (65%), secondary 21%) and tertiary (14%) with their education.

In 2023, we scaled our operations to the northern part of Ghana, following the establishment of Challenging Heights' Northern Ghana Programs Office in Tamale. This was preceded by action research to inform the programming of the organization in Northern Ghana. We are also operating in the Central Gonja District in the Savannah Region, where we are collaborating with our partner, Kerk in Actie to prevent child labour and trafficking in the district.

I am thrilled to let you know that our livelihood empowerment for women and youth continues to yield considerable results. The Max Stenbeck Mother and Child Recovery Center has become a center of excellence offering young girls and their children a safe environment while equipping them with the necessary vocational and life skills. The center had sixty-three (63) young girls in 2023, including seventeen (17) young mothers and their children. The Lisa Halsted Women Vocational Training Center also entered into its second year of operation, with twenty (20) young girls learning fashion and design. Plans have been put in place to assist students of both centers in writing the CTVET examinations in 2024. We also had 47 young people enrolled in different vocational skills training with master craft trainers. This included young girls who enrolled in non-traditional skills training like satellite installation, tiling, barbering, phone repairs, etc. We also supported over two hundred women 200 women through our weekly cash transfer program with 100 Weeks Foundation. We successfully organised extra classes for eight hundred and forty-four (844) young people entering SHS, while over seven hundred (700) young footballers benefited from our Sports for Change program.

We initiated and completed the research on due diligence in the supply chain of businesses in Ghana, with the aim of exploring the extent to which Ghanaian businesses are aware of the issues of modern slavery in business supply chain as well as understanding the steps being used to address them. A draft report has been compiled and we look forward to using its findings for our advocacy drive in 2024. As part of our climate change and environment programs, we also initiated new research dubbed the #bluegreen project that seeks to address issues of environmental and sea pollution, environmental destruction, deforestation, mining etc., in selected coastal and mining communities in Ghana. It is our intention to derived evidence from these research activities to help develop evidence-based interventions that will sustainably address these issues.

In 2024, we will continue to build on the successes recorded thus far. We have set for ourselves to rescue and support three hundred fifty (350) children from trafficking, domestic servitude, and the worst forms of child labour. As Challenging as this looks, we take inspiration from our name and our motto, while believing in the dedication and hard work of staff and importantly, the support of our donors and partners that, we will be able to reach this milestone. We will strive to improve organizational efficiency. We will work to improve the visibility of the organization through our advocacy drives and collaboration with other likeminded organisations to implement projects that will benefit the children of Ghana.

I would like to thank both past and present members of the advisory board for their efforts and dedication to the development of the organization, and the welfare of Ghanaian children at large. I am equally grateful to the Management Board for their support in running the affairs of the organization smoothly. I am grateful to the various partners who have supported our work, especially the Department of Social Welfare, the Child Labour Unit, and the Anti-Trafficking Unit of the Ghana Police Service. To the several Community Child Protection Committees who have volunteered to ensure children in their communities are safe, I say a big Ayekoo to them!

Thank you once again, and looking forward to a fruitful year.

Cynthia Adjoa Annan

(Ag. President)

VISION, MISSION, CORE VALUES AND STRATEGIC GOAL

Vision Statement

A country in which child trafficking is a thing of the past and children's rights are celebrated.

Mission Statement

To prevent child trafficking, reduce child slavery, and promote children's rights.

Core Values

Our core values are: Integrity, Commitment, Loyalty, Equity and Diversity

Strategic Goal

To end child trafficking and child slavery in the fishing industry in Ghana within ten (2020 to 2030) years.

Child Rights Clubs

Two (2) additional child rights clubs formed with 40 members (20 girls and 20 boys)

- Twenty (20) peer educators trained
- Two (2) CCPC members trained as club patrons

Sports for Change Program

Our Sports for Change (S4C) program is aimed at creating awareness in the various communities to promote education and sensitize the communities on child labour its worst forms and youth development. The overall objective is to enhance attitudinal and behavioural change among people, towards protecting children from child labour, child trafficking, domestic servitude and other forms of modern slavery. Sporting activities are organised and used as platforms for achieving this objective.

- Thirty-two (32) community-based football teams were formed in Winneba
- An estimated average of 407 people attend each football match
- An estimated 26048 people have participated so far
- 85% of participants are males and 15% are females
- 704 footballers benefited from our Sports for Change program
- Through our S4C program, 7 footballers have been scouted to play for teams abroad, while 3 players have been called to the U-17 junior national team of Ghana

The organization initiated formation of a juvenile football club known as Challenging Heights Foundation Club, for children aged 6 to 16 years. Among children, sports is one of the things that helps them reduce aggression and channel their energies and talents into profitable ventures while keeping themselves healthy and safe from abuse and exploitation.

- Over 470 children expressed interest and picked application forms
- 331 children participated in the first phase of selection,
- 75 have been selected for the next stage
- Player selection is based on a "Justify your inclusion" format, which is opened to the general public to witness

Enhanced reintegration and mentorship

- The enhanced reintegration program is to support survivors of child trafficking in need of educational support
- Beneficiaries are mentored and taught complementary life skills including public speaking, research methods, ICT and career guidance
- 154 beneficiaries received educational support under the enhanced reintegration and mentorship program:

A needs assessment was done to identify the basic needs of all the beneficiaries

- Beneficiaries received support including payment of school fees, books, laptops and other educational materials
- Caregivers of the beneficiaries also received micro-grants
- Beneficiaries participated in various socialization activities including mentorship camps, fun games, and excursion trips to important national sites.

LIVELIHOOD PROGRAMS

Women Empowerment

- 5 training workshops were conducted for parents of beneficiaries
- 11 women groups consisting of 220 women enrolled on a weekly cash transfer program
- 67 women/caregivers benefited from training and financial support
- 50 vulnerable women/caregivers identified and trained in Buipe in the Savannah region

The Max Stenbeck Mother and Child Center

The Center was established to serve as a safe house for girls and young women who are victims of sexual and gender-based violence and survivors of trafficking. The Center offers courses in cosmetology and fashion under the CTVET model. The women and girls are also provided with soft skills training in sexual and reproductive health rights, Computer literacy, Business and financial management. The total enrolment at the Center was 80, consisting of 63 women and girls, and 17 children of the young mothers at the center.

- 63 young girls were enrolled at the Center
- 33 enrolled in fashion
- 27 enrolled in Cosmetology
- 3 enrolled in remedial tuition for continuous education
- 17 young mothers admitted to the center
- 17 children (8 boys and 9 girls) of beneficiaries receiving early childhood education and care
- The age range of beneficiaries is 15-35 years

The Lisa Halsted's Women Vocational Training Center

The Lisa Halsted Women Vocational Training Center serves as a skills training center for young girls living around Winneba. The aim is to provide vocational skills training to young girls especially those from vulnerable homes with children at risk of trafficking and exploitation. It is the view of Challenging Heights that in order to break the vicious cycle of child labour and modern slavery, their parents should be provided with the necessary skills to be able to generate income to protect their children. Twenty (20) young girls have been enrolled at the center for 2 years and are learning the fashion and design of unisex items. The girls are currently in their final year and plans are being made to graduate them, including writing the CTVET proficiency certification. All beneficiaries receive soft skills training in entrepreneurship, business financial management, ICT, literacy and numeracy training, and sexual and reproductive health rights education.

Youth Empowerment

- 844 children enrolled on free pre-SHS extra classes
- Over 700 young footballers empowered through the S4C program

- 30 survivors trained on communication skills in child protection advocacy 19 beneficiaries participated in radio discussions on Nyce 90.7fm
- 19 young women enrolled in dressmaking
- 47 young people (31 males and 16 females) enrolled in skills training including women in non-traditional vocational skills

ODOBIRBA ACADEMY

Challenging Heights
School, Odobirba Academy, continues to make great strides in the provision of quality and low-cost basic education to children in Winneba. In the last academic year, the school maintained its policy of charging very low fees compared to other private schools in its category. The No caning policy continues to be in force. Total enrolment of the school increased marginally, from 994 in the 2022/2023 academic year to 1025 in the 2023/2024 academic year. It has also benefited from overseas volunteers who help the students in key areas like reading and creative skills. A key challenge of the school has been the high attrition of teachers. Although the fees are very low compared to other schools, there is a high default rate, which further highlights the vulnerability levels of children and their families. We have reviewed the condition of service of the teachers and also encouraged them to pursue distance and sandwich programs, as a strategy to reducing the levels of attrition.

CHALLENGING HEIGHTS' COOPERATIVE CREDIT UNION (CHCCU)

The Challenging Heights Cooperative Credit Union complements the livelihood intervention programs delivery of the organization. Through the Credit Union, we link caregivers and vulnerable people, especially women to access financial support for their businesses and other income-generating activities so that they are better able to care for their children. We encourage the formation of savings groups to facilitate easy access to credit. The CHCCU has over 1000 members consisting of 51% females, 40% males and 9% groups/institutions. The CHCCU has granted about GHS500,000 to individuals and groups as loans and micro-grant support.

NORTHERN GHANA PROGRAMS OFFICE

Challenging Heights in 2023 scaled its activities to the Northern part of Ghana. This was preceded by action research conducted by an independent consultant. Based on the recommendations of the consultant, we started operations with an established Programs Office in Tamale, while the Central Gonja District was selected as its first operational district.

We successfully conducted the following activities:

- Action research on child labour and child trafficking prevention in Northern Ghana
- Dissemination of the results of the action on child labour and child trafficking prevention in Northern Ghana
- Community durbars to sensitize and educate people on child labour and child trafficking
- Formation of Community Child Protection Committee (CCPC) in Buipe
- Supported our partner, Kerk in Actie, to shoot a documentary in the Central Gonja
 District
- Conducted radio sensitization and discussions in collaboration with the DWS Officers
- Identified and trained vulnerable women on child labour and trafficking prevention, and financial literacy

In 2024, we will continue with the implementation of our advocacy activities in the Central Gonja District, in collaboration with Kerk in Actie. We will also work to improve the visibility of the organization in Northern Ghana, creating partnerships with other NGOs and CSOs for knowledge sharing. We have planned to observe the World's Day Against Child Labour with activities in the Northern Ghana Programs Office and the Central Gonja District.

Advocacy

- CSO engagement to the review of the Fisheries Act to include provisions for the prevention of child labour in fishing
- CNACT engagement with the Human Trafficking Secretariat to educate CSOs on the administration of the Human Trafficking Fund
- Advocated for the inclusion of specific provisions on child domestic workers in the revised NPA for the Elimination of Child Labour
- Documentary on the work of Challenging Heights in preventing child labour and trafficking aired on Joy News
- Supported the development of a documentary on child labour and trafficking prevention in Northern Ghana with Kerk in Actie
- Publication of a petition to the AfCFTA secretariate on due diligence and modern slavery in the supply chain of businesses
- Participated in knowledge-sharing activities of the Global Platform for Child Domestic Work

- Participated and made presentations at Leigh Day's workshop for NGOs on Businesses and Human Rights, held in Johannesburg -South Africa
- Challenging Heights participated and presented at a high-level ECOWAS summit in Accra where CH re-emphasised the issue of due diligence in business and its linkages to modern slavery
- Supported a community led advocacy for the protection of the Winneba hunting grounds from being used as a mining site.

RESEARCH, MONITORING AND EVALUATION

- Conducted baseline and endline research on child domestic work project funded by NORAD/ASI, and disseminated the findings among key stakeholders across local, district and national levels
- Supported an independent research consultant on a mapping study on child domestic work
- Facilitated an end-ofproject evaluation of the child domestic work project by a team of eternal consultants appointed by the donor (ASI/NORAD)
- Conducted action research on child labour and child trafficking prevention in Northern Ghana and disseminated the results to key stakeholders

- Supported the conduct of a baseline research on Protecting the Future (PTF) project with SOS Ghana
- Completed research on due diligence and modern slavery in the supply chain of businesses among Ghanaian firms.
- Developed a report on Challenging Heights' Recovery Center
- Conducted research on the perspectives of child labour among community members in coastal communities
- Conducted research on community-level structures and child labour and trafficking prevention

CLIMATE CHANGE AND ENVIRONMENT

In 2021, Challenging Heights, in collaboration with Anti-Slavery International and the International Institute for Environment and Development conducted research on the impact of climate change on migration and modern slavery. The report dubbed: "Climate-induced migration and modern slavery – A tool kit for policymakers" had findings indicating that:

- Contemporary forms of slavery are often categorised as slavery, slavery-like practices, bonded labour, debt bondage and forced sexual exploitation;
- Climate change and climate-induced migration heighten existing vulnerabilities of slavery;
- Climate-induced displacements are becoming unavoidable;
- Climate change policies increasingly recognise climate-induced migration and displacement as an issue.

Challenging Heights was parts was part of the dissemination of the research report on several global platforms, including the World Bank. Challenging Heights signed a petition for the Chair of COP 26, seeking to draw his attention to the need for the recognition of the impact of climate change on modern slavery. The organization has since received several contacts from like-minded researchers seeking its insight on the issue of climate change and modern slavery especially in the Ghanaian context.

Some of the key recommendations to address the nexus between climate change, migration and modern slavery are:

- Incorporate modern slavery into climate and development planning
- Take action on displacement and risks of modern slavery
- Coordinate international efforts based on existing initiatives
- Shape policy interventions based on local research and evidence
- Integrate slavery issues in National Determined Contributions
 (NDC) and ensure climate finance commitments
- Strengthen social safety nets for climate risk management
- Develop skills and create safe migration pathways
- Develop preventive measures and plan to relocate and resettle displaced communities

The following are some of the key environment and Climate Change Activities undertaken by Challenging Heights:

Support for citizens' protest against Lithium Mining in the Aboakyer Hunting Forests and the Ramsar site: In 2022, Challenging Heights through its affiliate entity, Nyce Media supported a series of community-based and citizens-led protests against the issuance of mining licenses to companies to undertake lithium mining in the Winneba Ramsar site and the Winneba Forest, which serves as the hunting grounds for the Aboakyer festival of the Chiefs and people of Winneba. Nyce Media used its platform to give a voice to the community leaders and protesters who granted various interviews on the issue.

Following the protest, key state institutions including the Ministry of Lands and Natural Resources and the Minerals Commission came out to clarify that there would be no mining in this enclave. These are links to some of the online publications on the protest.

- https://citinewsroom.com/2023/12/winneba-residents-of-effutu-protestagainst-possible-sale-of-ramsar-site/

Tree planting exercise on Green Ghana Day in 2021: The Challenging Heights shelter team planted up to 1000 seedlings at our recovery centre. The seedlings are at different stages of growth. This has helped in tree cover restoration at the Centre.

Radio sensitisation on Nyce FM, 90.7: Green Ghana Day and distribution of seedlings. Challenging Heights through its media wing, Nyce FM, 90.7 supported the Forestry Services Division with airtime on Nyce FM to conduct radio sensitisation. This was able to reach Nyce

FM listeners, over 100,000 on causes of deforestation, strategies to combat deforestation and how citizens can partner with the Forest Services Division to receive and plant thousands of seedlings.

National Programme for the Elimination of Child Labour in Cocoa in Forest Zones - In 2009 and 2010, Challenging Heights worked with the Ministry of Employment and Labour Relations on the National Programme for the Elimination of Child Labour in Cocoa in Agona West and Asikuma-Odoben-Brakwa Districts, forest zones. The project educated residents on strategies to protect children from the worst forms of child labour, how to recover those in severe traumatic conditions and how to protect forest vegetation from over farming.

CHALLENGING HEIGHTS'

GREEN PROJECT

The #BlueGreen Project, seeks to tackle issues of environmental and sea pollution, environmental destruction, deforestation, mining etc., in selected coastal and mining communities in Ghana. The #BlueGreen project looks at the protection, preservation, and restoration of both aquatic/water (Blue) and land environment (Green), and preventing their destruction by meaningfully probing and analyzing the key issues, strategizing and engaging all stakeholders to implement interventions that will mitigate the impact of identified challenges. A key aspect of the research is on the protection of the Winneba hunting grounds and the Ramsar sites, which are significant for the Aboakyer deer hunting festival of the Chiefs and people of Winneba. In addition, the project will examine the impact of mining activities on the livelihoods of communities, with emphasis on women and children. Mining, especially illegal mining is a national concern affecting the environment and livelihoods. Forests are being destroyed. Water bodies are being polluted. Farmlands are being destroyed. Mining communities are losing their livelihoods, resulting in socio-economic issues such as poverty, diseases, child labour, forced/child prostitution, and irregular migration. With specific districts in mind, Challenging Heights would like to probe into the issues to know the extent of the problem and understand the associated implications of illegal mining activities. Through this inquiry, we hope to be well-informed and better placed to design strategic interventions to mitigate the challenges posed by illegal mining activities.

Social Support

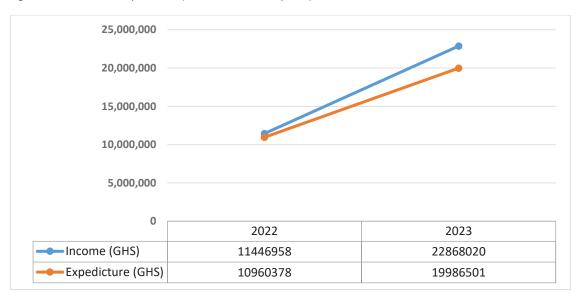

- Challenging Heights supported the Anti-Human Trafficking Unit of the Ghana Police Service with logistics, including a motor bicycle, air conditioners, fridges and television sets to aid in their operations
- Challenging Heights supported children affected by the Volta Dam spillage with food and educational materials
- Partnered with Nyce 90.7 FM to organise the celebration of the 2023 Twii Festival of the Chiefs and People of Woarabeba, in Winneba
- Partnered with Nyce 90.7 FM, to organize free medical screening and blood donation exercise to support the Winneba Government Hospital and the Trauma and Specialist Hospital in Winneba.
